The Hon. Louis Brandeis,
Justice, Supreme Court, U. S.
Washington, D. C.

My dear Justice Brandeis:

Some time ago Justice Holmes was good enough to send me a copy of his dissenting opinion (in which you concurred) in the case of the four Russians convicted in New York state under the espionage act. I lent this copy, together with the opinion of the majority to Bishop Williams of Detroit, and although I told him that Justice Holmes had informed me he had no more copies, the Bishop now writes me that the two pamphlets have been mislaid. Inasmuch as I am very anxious to have these documents, I am writing in the hope that you may not yet have disposed of your quota and may be willing to send me one of each.

Yours sincerely,

S. H. Clark
